

'Quickly, Igor – pass me my saw!'

A set of Autopsy Instruments

The perfect gift for budding Dr. Frankensteins & mad scientists everywhere

This is a set of instruments that might be used in an autopsy in a horror movie laboratory. It consists of:

- a scalpel (handle can be made invisible if you need spare blades)
- a butcher's knife
- a mallet and chisel
- a surgical retractor
- a handaxe
- a large steel syringe
- and, of course, a saw
- there is also a convenient tray to put them in

Copyright

These models are all © Steve Pedler, September 2005 – June 2021. They may be used for both commercial and non-commercial renders, but not redistributed without my prior agreement.

All models and materials in this set were developed by me.

Have fun slicing and dicing!

Steve Pedler

June 2021

<https://www.microbion.co.uk>